Hall Renovation

Final Phase

Week 4 . . . . . $1,712.50
Total collected to date '76 $10,045.87
(incl. memorial)

Last spring, the stage area of the church hall looked very much as it appears in the "before" shot. The stage area, besides bringing back many memories to the little "angels" who had performed on it as grade school students, had served as the sanctuary of St. John's Church before the upper structure was built in 1932.

Many of the "little angels" and dancers who once skipped across the stage are now parishioners who are making the renovation of the entire hall possible. Their ranks, of course, have been swelled by many other faithful who form the community of our parish at present.

The old stage area now will become the new kitchen in the hall. A neatly finished hardwood wall, the central focus of the hall itself, has replaced the stage curtains.

As we mark the half-way point in our special 10-week renovation drive, we are most encouraged at the prospects of completely finishing the project within the next few weeks.

MANRESA RETREAT

On the weekend of March 26, 27 & 28, the me of St. John's and neighboring parishes will make a retreat at the Jesuit retreat house in Bloomfield Hills called Manresa, which is about a one hour drive from Ypsilanti. The retreat begins at six p.m. on Friday, March 2) and ends at three p.m., Sunday, March 28.

A weekend at Manresa is a pleasant blend of solitude, communion with others, and religious worship.

Each retreatant has his own private room and is free to walk the peaceful grounds. After the first dinner, silence is broken only during group worship.

"Conferences" bring the retreatants together in a cheerful chapel where a retreat master sets the tone for individual meditation.

Group prayers include daily Liturgy (Mass) and (weather permitting) outdoor Rosary and Stations of the Cross in the grotto area. Priests in attendance keep their doors open for individual conferences.

If you are interested in spending a weekend amidst the "Sounds of silence," please contact:

(This is the second in a series of four articles by Cardinal Dearden on the new Rite of Penance.)

Last week I noted that the new Rite of Penance will place more emphasis on conversion. That is a word we usually associate with Baptism and the reception into the Faith. We now must become more aware of the fact that conversion, while begun at Baptism, is the journey of a lifetime.

To undergo a conversion is to leave something behind in order to embrace something else. For the Christian, this means continually leaving behind our way, to accept God's way. It means turning from a self-centered way of living, to a life centered on God and on others. This involves much more than externals. It has to do with our attitude, our values, our approach to life, and it is not accomplished in a day, a week, or a year.

Our initial conversion takes place in Baptism. The early Christians expressed this by descending into a pool of water. They left behind their clothes and were "buried" in the baptismal waters. This symbolized death - leaving behind the old way. Then they rose out of the water and put on the baptismal robe. This symbolized rising to a new life - embracing the teachings of Jesus.

Most of us were baptized as infants. As we grew older, we gradually learned more and more about the implications of that earlier conversion. Again and again we had to decide whether we really wanted to shape our lives on the pattern of Christ. Even after making and renewing this decision, we experienced failure, sometimes small, sometimes great. We had to admit this and find the strength to change not once, but many times. All this is what we mean by conversion.

Our ongoing conversion is experienced in many ways, always with the help of God. Sometimes this grace can come about through the words or example of a friend. Sometimes it is experienced in prayer. Sometimes it is achieved through a parish mission. Most of the time it is achieved in the Eucharistic celebration, although this has not been emphasized as much as it should be.

In addition to these various experiences of conversion, there are times when all of us need the conversion that is expressed and brought about through the Sacrament of Penance. There are times when we need to step back, look at where we have been, where we are, where we should be, and reach out for the help to get there. We need the healing touch of the Lord. We need to speak aloud our change of heart, open ourselves to the challenging words of another, enlist the prayers and support of the community, and perform works of penance.

The story of the Prodigal Son is the story of a conversion very similar to what takes place in the Sacrament of Penance. When the son left home he took a lot with him - not only his portion of the inheritance, but also his attitude toward his family, toward others, toward himself, toward life. Then there came a time when he lost his inheritance, and a lot of the other baggage too. He changed. He grew. Gradually he began to see his father in a different light, and to see life itself differently.

This was not accomplished in an instant, and it was not accomplished easily. At first, his motives for coming home, at least on the surface, were very mixed; he was hungry. But he had to admit his sins, and on the long road home he rehearsed his speech many times. Most of all, he had to undergo a change of heart, a conversion. This was finally achieved in the embrace with his father at the end of the journey home.

In the Sacrament of Penance it is not enough to deal simply with actions. We have to find the link between our actions and our hearts and follow that link to its source. For example, if we confess that we have said unkind things about others, we have only told part of the story. Is it usually the same people that we talk about in this way? Have we ever thought about ways of trying to improve our relationship with these other people - a heart to heart talk, a word of praise? Can we undergo a conversion ... not necessarily a perfect one, not the last word ... but the beginnings of a real change? Can we leave behind one attitude, and adopt another? Have we ever seriously prayed about our Lord's command that we do good even to our enemies? Is there need for special prayer and fasting to help make this happen?

When we receive the Sacrament of Penance in the future, we will have time to think and talk about all this. We will focus most of our attention on conversion.

Most of us will admit that in preparing for and going to confession, we usually spent most of our time on the past rather than on the future. We worked very hard to put together an honest list of our sins. We decided what order to put them in, decided on the best wording, and memorized the list by reciting it over and over to ourselves. We intended with all our hearts to do better. But that part - the future - was left vague. We were clear on the past, not so clear on the future.

That is where there will be perhaps the greatest shift in emphasis. It will still be important to acknowledge our sins honestly. But the future, the plan of our conversion, will be even more important.

Conversion involves some risk. It takes great courage to leave something behind and reach out to something new. Past attitudes and approaches to life do not die easily. After all, we clung to them because, in one sense, they worked. We had reasons for acting the way we did. To leave all that behind, to move away from the "safety" of our unkindness and venture forth to love is not an easy thing to do. Even the Israelites found it hard to leave behind the slavery of Egypt and face the unknown road to the Promised Land.

We need help to do that. We need the Sacrament of Penance.

you could help just during that hour once a month or weekly, please feel free to make your appearance on Wednesdays. It takes only a minute to update you on what to do and it would help immeasurably to have that extra help especially during the first hour.

If there are parishioners who have never attended a game, you might find it both interesting and profitable to come a few times.

Reception

On Monday, March 15th, there will be a reception for the children who will make their First Confession that evening. Their families are also invited. If there are any women who would like to donate cupcakes, brownies, etc., for this event, please bring them to the hall by 7:30 p.m. so that tables can be arranged. As always the Service Commission is grateful for your support of our receptions for the sacramental programs.

Pre-Marriage Seminars

Holy Trinity Chapel is sponsoring a series of pre-marriage seminars for Christian couples who will be married between now and June. The seminars have been very effective in the past in promoting exploration of attitudes and expectations in Christian marriage. They are designed for Roman Catholic couples and couples who will be living in an inter-faith marriage. The seminar leaders combine the talent and expertise of married couples, two Catholic priests, a Protestant minister, a Roman Catholic nurse, an accountant and a certified marriage counselor.

Program A: Friday, March 26 - 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m.; Saturday, March 27 - 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Sunday, March 28 - 12 Noon to 5:00 p.m. Cost is $15.00 per couple.

Program A with the times as listed above will also meet from Friday through Sunday on April 30, May 1-2 and June 11, 12 and 13.

Program B: Saturday, March 27 - 9:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.; Sunday, March 28 - 12 Noon to 5:00 p.m. Cost is $12.00 per couple.

Program B with the times as listed above will also meet on Saturday and Sunday on May 1-2 and June 12-13.

All couples planning marriage here at St. John's within the next year are asked to attend this marriage preparation. Application must be made in advance.

Call Trinity Chapel at 482-1400 to make your application.

Cleaning Crew

On Saturday, March 20, from 10:00 until noon, we would appreciate anyone who can spare the time to help with the sorting of items we have used in the old kitchen and are getting ready for the new kitchen. The sorting will take place in Needham Hall basement where many things are stored. We won't know what we have until all of this is gone through.

Where are all the U.S. priests? On a national average there is one priest for every 858 Catholics in the United States. Of the seven dioceses in Michigan, Marquette received the highest ranking in the state - 31 out of a total of 156 dioceses in the country. It had a ratio of one priest for every 773 persons. The Diocese of Lansing received a 138 ranking and showed a priest/people ration of one to 2,491.

Catholic School test scores show remarkable progress among students in the 42 Catholic elementary schools, according to the Diocesan Education Office. The California Tests of Basic Skills, which is used across the country to measure achievement of students in public and private schools, indicated students of parochial schools are advancing at more rapid than normal rate in fundamental areas of instruction.

A BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION IS COMING

St. John's will be part of the Bicentennial celebration by sponsoring a Picnic Festival on July 18th, from 11:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. at the Moose Park on Stoney Creek Rd. We will keep you informed of progress being made. But in order to make progress to begin with, we need parishioners who will help with the organization of certain areas now and on the day of the festival. It can be a lot of fun even though there will be a great deal of effort in the preparations. There will be many celebrations in the city throughout the summer and we hope that St. John parishioners will be in the midst of the festivities by planning a celebration to befit them.

A small committee met on Tuesday, March 9th, to begin preparations. Earl Herbert who has planned many functions of this size gave us a great deal of help in proposing committees needed and ideas to be completed. Committees needed are: Tents, Grounds, Parking, Publicity, Kid Games, Adult Games, Foods, Clean Up, Tickets and Prizes. With many to help, this can be effectively worked out but we do need each of you to participate in a committee and to be present that day. If you are interested, and I'm sure you are, please sign up for the committee of your choice either at Coffee and Donuts or by calling Sr. Carol at 483-3360. The first need is for co-chairpersons for each committee so that we can plan out in detail what needs to be accomplished. After that it is a cinch ... we will be on our way ... and have a festival worthy of our Bicentennial year.

The next meeting is planned for Thursday, March 25th, in the Library. We hope to see a much larger crowd of interested parishioners to get the celebration rolling. Hopefully by then we will also have co-chairpersons. Are you thinking of being one?? Why don't you call right now! Sister Carol

Invitations to Attend...

Dominican Laity Meeting
Monday, March 15, 7:30 p.m. - St. John's Sanctuary.

The Time Is Now

For those who have wanted to effectively work for the right of the unborn child - now is the time. For details come to a meeting Thursday, March 18, at 8 p.m. at the Geneva Smith Library in the basement of St. Francis Church, 2250 E. Stadium Blvd,, Ann Arbor. Diane Fagelman, R.N. president, will talk about some of the more urgent goals of Lifespan Inc.

Single Catholic Adults

The next monthly meeting will be on April 2nd, at St. John's rectory at 8:00 p.m. For information call Sue at 482-1942.

Babysitting...

...it is a time to remind parishioners that there is babysitting at the 9:00 and 11:00 a.m. Sunday Masses so that you are free to attend the liturgy and be able to participate.

...there are many parents taking advantage of this service and we do need to have the proper supervision for groups ranging from 20 to 30 at each of the Masses. We are asking those baby sitters who responded to the Time and Talent Sheet in September to check their calendars for the dates on which they are to babysit. It is imperative that all sitters be there on a given Sunday. If you cannot make it for any reason, please let Sister Carol or Frances Schenher know in advance so that someone can be substituted. Better yet, if you can find a substitute from the list, you can exchange places. While there are 4 to 5 sitters appointed for each Mass a Sunday, we can use more men, women, or youth who feel they could help every other month because the number of children in Room 5 at one time has grown considerably. Please feel free to contact Sister Carol or Mrs. Schenher to have your name placed on a list.

...the children love treats during the hour they are babysat. At one time, parents brought cookies regularly ... however, this is not the case now. Feel free to bring homemade or store purchased cookies whenever the spirit moves you. The children will be ever so grateful.

...if those using the service ever see anything amiss, please also bring this to our attention. Sometimes we hear rumors that such and such has happened, but unless it is brought to the right source, nothing can be done about it. We will appreciate your interest and honesty so that this service can be one that is effective at all times.

White Elephant Update

Eileen Clements, Saron Hartman, Mil Kerner, and Stella Swope wish to thank all parishioners who have been donating to the White Elephant on a regular basis. This has been a source of major revenue to the St. Vincent de Paul Society. If you haven't yet seen our White Elephant offerings, feel free to stop by on the first Saturday of April and May when we will be having our last sales. No one seems to be able to walk away empty-handed because we have some really terrific buys. Right now we are completely out of toys so we would ask that anyone who has the thought to go through toys at home do so in the near future because we really need to replenish that area. Knowing we have this need might encourage you to do something that you have been just putting off.

Bingo Update

Bingo is played every Wednesday at St. John's from 7:00 until 10:30 p.m., with doors opening at 6:30. We had many parishioners sign up to work on this project but many have dropped out due to other commitments. So, again, we make our plea for workers. It is impossible to continue with 3 or 4 workers weekly when there are as many as 140 to 180 in attendance. The worst part of the evening is from 6:30 to 7:30 when the rush is on to purchase cards and to play Early Birds. If there are any of you who feel that Catholic Social Services...

March 3, 1976

The Big Brother - Big Sister Program at Catholic Social Services needs your help in fulfilling the needs of their clients, and the Ypsilanti area community, through volunteering to become a Big Brother for a needy youngster.

Our volunteers are adults who wish to spend some time each week for at least one year with a child who needs special attention. They are screened by our agency and matched with children referred to us based upon their interests and abilities and the child's needs and interests. We then follow-up on the match at least once a month to be sure everything is going smoothly, offer suggestions, and check on the progress of the child. Both the child's family and the volunteer are encouraged to call us whenever there may be some difficulty. We also sponsor get-togethers for the volunteers to share experiences and problems. Periodic activities are planned for all volunteers and children such as picnics or parties.

The children may need special attention because they are from a one-parent home, are having difficulty in school, in their home or with the courts, or just need a friend to relate to - someone to look up to. Our program is based upon community volunteer interest. Unfortunately now we find ourselves in the difficult position of not having enough volunteer Big Brothers for the little boys who want them. We therefore would like to urge you to consider becoming a volunteer for this meaningful program. Your time would be deeply appreciated by some child, who in turn might bring you some joy and meaningfulness.

This program has proved beneficial to both the children and its volunteers. If you or someone you know are interested in our program, please contact us. It might be the beginning of a beautiful relationship.

My Forty Days in the Desert

by a Parishioner

In today's readings, I feel like the Lord is sending me into a desert, a wasteland in Ypsilanti. For forty days I will be tested. I feel the Lord wants me to reform my life and believe more in Him and to proclaim the good news of God. The covenant He established with Noah and his sons is the same covenant He has established with me and my daughters and the bow in the clouds serves as a sign of that everlasting covenant. He also reminds me that His Son Jesus died for my sins once for all and the reason He did this was because He loved me and wants to draw me to His Father. He has shown His love by a promise not to ever destroy mortal beings by a flood such as in the days of Noah, but through baptismal waters I am saved through the resurrection of His Son Jesus Christ.

During the past several weeks here at St. John's, the Lord has been telling me to listen, to pray, be silent, and be obedient to Him. I will go into that desert and wasteland and even if I am tempted by satan and worldly desires I have the assurance and covenant with the Lord that no evil will harm me for God is with me. Praise be to my God.

"Oh Lord my God, your word is truth, and your love is everlasting. I give myself fully to You for You are worthy of all my love and I want to follow you always. Fill me with your love and Spirit for I am your son."

'Give Us This Day'

Operation Rice Bowl is not limited to the Catholics of America. It started in the city of Allentown, Pa. sponsored by the religious leaders of the town to raise the level of awareness concerning the plight of millions of people who had nothing to eat. To pray for them, to sacrifice and to share with them.

Operation Rice Bowl is sponsored by the 41st International Eucharistic Congress as part of its program of Spiritual Renewal and Preparation. It has been adopted by the U.S. Catholic Conference of Bishops, which has asked Catholic Relief Services to distribute food to the starving of the world.

If the words "Give us this day our daily bread" mean anything, then give it.
